990-1

The Repatriate Program of assistance is established by Public Law 87-64, which added §1113 to Title XI of the Social Security Act. Federal regulations are set forth in Title 45, Chapter II, Part 212 of the Code of Federal Regulations. The program provides assistance to United States citizens and their dependents who have returned to the United States because of destitution of the United States citizen, illness of the citizen or his or her dependents, or because of war, threat of war, invasion or similar crises. The recipient must meet appropriation resource standards to be eligible. (Handbook §68-101.1) 990-2

Repatriate assistance shall be governed by Division III, Part B, of the May 1984 federal "Manual of Policies and Procedures for Administration, Temporary Assistance for U.S. Citizens Returned from Foreign Countries". The program includes money payments, medical care, temporary billeting or lodging, transportation, and other goods and services necessary for the health and welfare of individuals. It also includes counseling and referral for employment, retraining, vocational rehabilitation, and medical services. (§68-104)
